

TTC fares rise this Sunday, January 3

December 30, 2009

TTC fares increase this Sunday, January 3, 2010, as approved by the Commission at its November 17, 2009 meeting.

Until January 31, only, temporary Adult tickets can still be used with the addition of 25 cents. Older Senior/Student tickets can be used with the addition of 15 cents and older Child tickets can be used with the addition of 5 cents.

Also, starting in September, students attending an accredited post-secondary institution will be able to purchase the Student Metropass. Students who opt not to use the Metropass starting this September will have to pay Adult fare – tokens or cash.

New fares, effective January 3, 2010, are:

	Current Fare	New Fare
Adult
Cash	$2.75	$3.00
Token	$2.25	$2.50
Weekly Pass	$32.25	$36.00
Regular Metropass	$109.00	$121.00
VIP	$98.00	$109.00
MDP	$100.00	$111.00
Senior/Student
Cash	$1.85	$2.00
Ticket	$1.50	$1.65
Weekly Pass	$25.50	$28.00
Regular Metropass	$91.25	$99.00
MDP	$84.00	$89.00

Child

Old TTC Day Passes can be exchanged for a new Day Pass. Old Temporary Adult Tickets cannot be exchanged or refunded at any time.

The Toronto Transit Commission moves 470 million people every year – about 1.5 million riders every weekday. The TTC is the third largest public transit system in North America servicing some 4.5 million people in the Greater Toronto Area, with a network of subways, streetcars, buses, and a specialized service, Wheel-Trans, for people who require accessible

Cash	$0.70	$0.75
Ticket	$0.50	$0.55
Daypass	$9.00	$10.00
GTA Pass	$47.00	$52.00

transportation. The TTC is committed to meeting the growing needs of the region with subway and light rail expansion, carrying an additional 175 million riders by 2021.

December

View all articles from